To Whom It May Concern:

The American Association of Zoo Veterinarians has given its support and endorsement to the international Zoo & Aquarium Video Archive project.

Zoo and Wildlife Veterinary medicine is unique. The interviewees of the Zoo & Aquarium Video Archive are the mentors that all of us in the field have relied on and respected for years. To be able to see these interviews and hear the challenges of these pioneers re-inspires all veterinarians practicing zoo and wildlife medicine to continue our work and practice. Zoo and Wildlife Veterinary medicine has advanced dramatically because of these visionaries. To have such a resource for us and for future generations of veterinarians is invaluable.

Sincerely,

Robert Hilsenroth, DVM
Executive Director
