The Association of Zoos and Aquariums and its over 200 accredited members wholeheartedly support the work of the Zoo and Aquarium Video Archive Project.

The preservation of stories of the public display community and of our great leaders is important work. The recorded interviews, video footage, photographs and transcripts serve as wonderful resources. Having these resources will assure that we don't forget the past and that future leaders in the public display community understand the advancements we have made.

Sincerely,

Kristin L. Vehrs
