Dear Marvin -

Many thanks for your letter of the 17th, with notes for Bill Conway & the Rowley enclosed, as well as your report on Japanese zoos - they latter, of course, very interesting. The Japanese Crown Crane is expected here tomorrow and we had thought of mentioning Manchurian Cranes but it looks now as though we'd better drop the idea, as it would certainly make trouble for someone. The Koga told me once that Korea was the great source for Manchurians, caught during migration but that seems to be out now.

Very glad to hear about Rotterdam's Afrapavo. The news took the long way around but got here first!

Yes - George Bournelle took the ♂ Parago and the pair of Akapis to Antwerp, when he brought out the Akapis for San Diego and Dallas. There was another ♂ Parago left in Eruhe - a pity George didn't bring it.

I'm sorry to hear your present assignment is so confining. Perhaps after you finish it, you will get one less inkosome. The Army visit too bad - some of the time!

Best regards

Sincerely

Lee S. Crandall
